Tilton's patience in listening to Porter is accounted for by himself. He says "You forget my twenty years' experience of Mrs. Morse."

In France, they have a factory for the manufacture of animal charcoal at Metz, which is supplied with bones from the battle fields over there. The product is used for refining sugar.

The meeting of the Ohio Medical Association at Put-in-Bay has been postponed until the third Tuesday in June. The Louisville Courier-Journal, in reply to the pathetic question of a woman, 'How shall I keep my husband home in the evening?" says it can be done easy enough by opening a first class beer garden in the back yard.

It is cheerful news that there is a fair prospect for a cessation of the troubles in the Pennsylvania coal regions, and a resumption of work. There have been nearly six months of idleness, during which thousands of people have been suffering for the want of food and clothing, millions of capital have been practically wasted, and the worst passions of the buman race aroused to outrage and bloodshed. And now, after all this, the miners will have to resume work, if at all at the prices offered them last January.

New Hampshire enjoys-like Louisians-two State Senates, and all on account of the partizan action of the Governor and his council. The latter threw out of the official count for State Senator all votes cast for "Nat Head," which were meant for Nathaniel Head, Republican, and thereby gave his Democratic competitor, who was badly beaten, a majority. The Legislature met the other day amidst the grestest excitement, when the Republican Senators presented a protest against the admission of the two Demoocrats counted in by the Governor. The protest was filed, and two Democrats ad . mitted, and the Senate organized by the Democrats alone voting. The Republicaus seceded and organized an independent Senate. The matter is now before the courts, and time has been taken for a

The Republican State Convention dis charged its duties well and wisely. Beside the judicious selection of candidates for the several officers, the platform adopted is a model one, concise and direct, and its enunciation of principles such as commend them to the intelligent voters of the State. It is such as Republicans can unite upon, and the objects aimed at are possibly within reach and accomplishment. Our platform gives out no uncertain sound on the division of the school fund for sectarian purposes, and assures the people of the great State of Ohio that the Republican party is pledged toffree schools and popular education Priestly dictation to Republicans will be spurned indignantly, and the free school system of this great State, which is the foundation stone of the republic, will be preserved to our posterity. All the people can rejoice that in this great party they have a rock upon which is built the temple of free schools and popular educ

The following platform was unanimous ly adopted without discussion':

The Republicans of Ohio, in Conven-tion assembled, reaffirming the cardinal principles of their organization, which have become maxims of policy, State and national, declare on specific points the series of sentiments following: 1. The States are one as a nation, and all citizens are equal under the laws, and entitled to their fullest protection. 2. That the policy of finances should be steadily pursued, which, without un-necessary shock to business or trade, will ultimately equalize the purchasing capacity of the coin and paper dollar. 3. We are in favor of tariff for revenue with incidental protection to American

4. We stand by free education, our public school system, the taxation of all for its support, and no division of the school

5. Under our Republican system of Government there should be no connecdirect or indirect, between Church and State, and we oppose all legislation in interest of any particular sect. Upon this subject we should not fail to profit by the experience of foreign Governments, where the efforts of the Church to control the State constitute an evil of great magnitude, and endanger the pow-er and prosperity of the people. 6. We demand such a revision of the Patent Laws as will relieve industry from the oppression of monoplies in admini

7. A grateful people can never sease to remember the services of our soldiers and sailors, and it is due to them that liberality and generosity should obtain in the adjustment of pay and bounties.

8. That we demand that the public do main shall be scrupulously reserved for occupancy by actual settlers. 9. The dertemination of the Govern ment to collect the revenues, and preven and punish frauds, has our unqualified 10. That the power of municipal corporations to create debts should be re-stricted, and local and other expenditures ample in retiring at the close of a second Presidential term will be in the future, as it has been in the past, regarded as a fun-damental rule in the unwritten law of the

Mr. Evarts concluded his argument on Tuesda last. Instead of the five days he was to occupy he has taken more than seven. It is shown when the confidence is felt in this scandal suit, by the orneys, and the spread that is madeon the one two arguments, long drawn out-while or other it is proposed to conclude the arguments in short three days. The extreme length of Evart's address roudered it tiresome alike to the jury and the public, and in this way was lost much of the excellent effect produced during the first two or three days, as it is too much to expect that a speech occupying seven full days in delivery, could command a sustained interest throughout. Rone the less, however, will the effort be regard ed as among the most brilliant and able in this eminent lawyer's career. He has covered a vast amount of ground, saying, it would seem, all that human insennity could device to say in behalf of a client who was his own worst witness, and it whose behalf such a lucid and intelligent explanation of his own utterances as would rende them consistent with his innocence, was of itself an undertaking of some magnitude. Mr. Evart was siso burdened with the labor of overcomi the effect of his colleague's ill-advisied and injurious tactics, so that he has had uphill work is making the case for the defense respectable arts adverted to the refusal of the defense to call Mrs. Tilton as a witness. He itouched upon this subject lightly and briefly—merely saying that her testimony was not thought necessary because of her various donlars which other witness had testified to at second-hand. What shall prevent the intelligent juror from wondering why direct testimony on this point would not have been pre ferable? Certainly, the slight mention made by
